RHODES TO COMMAND.

Famous Skipper of the Lasca, Will Have Charge.

NEW YORK, April 11.—After full consideration of many names submitted, those in charge of the old Defender have selected as her skipper for trial races with the new cup yacht and all else that may be required of her Captain Urias Rhodes, a lifelong resident of the South Side of Long Island, and a friend and associate of those famous sailing masters, Hank Haff, Norman Terry and others. Captain Rhodes is in the prime of life, and in the days when John E. Brooks of the New York Yacht club was in yacht racing circles with his noted schooners he was his skipper and piloted them to victory. The triumphs of the center-board Lasca, built for Brooks from Cary Smith's designs, are still vividly remembered by the great body of the yachtsmen.

When the Lasca went to Europe in May, 1894, Captain Rhodes was in her command, and so much confidence was reposed in his ability and judgment that Brooks and two friends sailed with the yacht. Captain Rhodes made the exceptional passage with the Lasca of fifteen and a half days to Fastnet from Sandy Hook lightship, and in seventeen and a half days was at anchor in Gourock Bay, Scotland, without losing a rope-knot. The inability of Mr. Brooks to secure any races for his notable craft which she was abroad is a matter of record.

Captain Rhodes remained with Mr. Brooks until he sold the Lasca, and went to Europe to permanently reside. Since then the captain has been in command of well-known vessels.

MESSANGER BOY ELSEY.

NEW YORK, April 9.—James Elsey, the London messenger boy who left London on April 1st for California to rival the recent trip of Juggers, the messenger boy sent to Chicago, arrived here this evening on the Chinard liner Etruria. The lad was met at the dock by a representative of a tourist agency and after having been photographed was rushed to the Christopher street ferry. He left later for the west over the Delaware and Lackawanna and Western road.

Elsey, who is 16 years old, is dressed in the messenger uniform. He was sent to this country by Henry McCalmont, member of parliament for Newmarket, in the Conservative interest, and well known sportsman. He is to deliver a letter at an address at Hanford, Cal.
